In March 2006, he participated in "Cyprien Katsaris Piano Academy" in Weimar, Germany, which was held at Franz Liszt's house. Here, after his performance of the composer's B minor sonata, Germany's Thüringische Landeszeitung wrote the following: "While his fingers were flying above the keys between the soft and powerful melodies, with his self-confidence, Kandemir Basmacıoğlu promised a bright future." Cyprien Katsaris mentioned Basmacıoğlu with following words: "...his keyboard sovereignty and remarkable musicianship are particularly impressive. His gift of combining his personal ideas with those of the composers he performs, make him a marvelous pianist, and I have the fullest confidence in his future".

In 2008 he got accepted to Hochschule für Musik Köln/Germany and to be able to continue his studies there, he was granted with the DAAD scholarship. In 2009 he obtained the Borusan scholarship and in 2011 played with the Borusan Istanbul Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Gürer Aykal as a soloist.

In 2014 he gave a recital during the "15. International Antalya Piano Festival". In February 2020 he was one the five pianists that took part in a concert at Philharmonie Berlin for the 250th birthyear of Beethoven.
